Xscape Safe™ Products Frequently Asked Questions and Answers

1. Are the Smoke Hoods “NIOSH” approved?

No, NIOSH does not have a test standard for Smoke Escape Hoods.

2. What standards do the hoods meet?

At present, North America has only a written standard (ANSI 110) but no testable standard. The EN403 is the testable European standard to which the hoods are certified.

3. Does the suit pass any type of NFPA Standard?

Yes, although there is currently no NFPA standard for a fire evacuation suit, the Xscape Safe™ Suit was tested and exceeded pyro-man requirements for NFPA 2112 (an NFPA standard for Industrial style coveralls).

4. Where was the suit tested?

The Xscape Safe™ Suit was tested at North Carolina State University using the guidelines for NFPA 2112 and ASTM1930.

5. Of what material is the suit made?

The Xscape Safe™ Suit is made of Gentex aluminized woven fiberglass fabric.

6. May the suit be worn with different types of escape smoke hoods?

Yes, the Xscape Safe™ Suit may be worn with the MSA S-Cap Smoke Hood and the Purify Air 30M Smoke Hood.

7. What is the intended use for the Xscape Safe™ Suit?

The Xscape Safe™ Suit is intended for evacuation purposes ONLY. It is NOT intended for personnel to reenter a fire or perform firefighting duties.

8. What type of packaging is available?

The Smoke Hood and Xscape Safe™ Suit may be packaged in a small soft kit bag.

9. What is the shelf-life of the Purify Air 30M Smoke Hood and Suit?

The Purify Air 30M Smoke Hood has a five year shelf-life and the Suit has a fifteen year shelf-life.

10. Is any special training needed to use the Xscape Safe™ Suit or Hood?

A training video is included with each Kit Bag with pictorial instructions on the Kit Bag. A training session may be arranged upon request.

11. What comes in the Xscape Safe™ Kit?

The Xscape Safe™ Kit includes: (1) Purify Air 30M Smoke Hood, (1) Xscape Safe™ Suit, (1) Accessory Kit (light/clicker), (1) Soft Kit Bag and (1) Training DVD.

12. Is there any required maintenance of the Xscape Safe™ products?
